Scholarship Overview

All program applications submitted and complete by the priority deadlines will have first advantage to apply for scholarships. While we tend to award many of our scholarships during the priority period, any remaining scholarships will be awarded to those who are eligible and merit one. Scholarships require a separate application that will be sent to eligible applicants shortly after receiving an admissions decision. Criteria for selection of awards include demonstrated excellence in academia or professional pursuits, as assessed in your admission and scholarship applications. Availability and amounts of scholarship awards vary year-to-year

Scholarship Types

- Merit scholarships for both resident and non-resident students
- Graduate and teaching assistantships (limited number per year)
- GMAT/GRE scholarships for applicants who achieve a 650 or higher GMAT score

MSF

Master of Science in Finance

Ranked top-ten nationally by the Financial Times, the Master of Science in Finance (MSF) program is on the rise. Designed to develop innovative thinkers who will lead the next generation of financial professionals, the MSF degree adds clout to your resume and expands your career options.

With formats to attend full- or part-time and a core-to-elective ratio that lets you choose nearly half your classes, the MSF program includes flexibility to customize your degree.

MSF

AT-A-GLANCE

The MSF curriculum focuses on the application of financial concepts. Theories discussed in undergraduate courses will be developed into practical skills that will enable you to forecast, value and strategize for the ever-innovating finance industry. Students exit the program with hands-on experience and real-world finance skills.

Experiential Programs

MSF students have the opportunity to participate in a number of experiential learning programs, including the University Venture Fund, internships with top companies and program-led consulting projects. Additionally, MSF students can attend national study trips to explore finance culture and processes across the U.S.

- Ranked #9 in the U.S. by the Financial Times
- CFA exam pass rate 46% higher than the national average
- Gain a competitive advantage by pursuing an information systems or business analytics certificate.
- STEM program: F1 graduates are eligible for an OPT extension.

Work-Compatible Class Schedule

The MSF program offers flexibility in terms of both scheduling and academic interest. While the program can be completed in as little as nine months, roughly half of our students study part-time while maintaining an existing career. The program director works closely with students to tailor a curriculum that fits both their interests and their schedule.

Full-Time students can complete the program in 3 semesters.

Part-Time students can complete the program in 4-6 semesters.
